Freedom Camping Rules

We're keen to hear from you about the proposed changes to the freedom camping rules in the Public Places Bylaw 2022, as discussed in the attached Statement of Proposal.

Privacy statement – what we do with your personal information

Submissions including your name and opinions on the proposed policy are published and made available to elected members and to the public from our offices and on our website. Contact details provided by you (eg phone number, email) may be given to elected members if they wish to contact you about your submission. Personal information will be used for the administration of the process of consultation.

Our staff will have access to submissions in their capacity as Council employees.

With the exception of your name, personal details like contact information collected in the 'Your details' section will be redacted prior to publishing. Please note that you should not include any personal information in the open text fields of this survey if you do not wish it to be made public.

For further details around privacy please see our extended Privacy Statement on the Wellington City Council website. All information collected will be held by Wellington City Council in accordance with the Privacy Act 2020. You have a right to ask for a copy of any personal information we hold about you, and to ask for it to be corrected if you think it is wrong. Please contact us at policy.submission@wcc.govt.nz.

Proposed changes to the freedom camping rules

The Council proposes that the four-day restriction currently applying to the two designated freedom camping areas (Evans Bay Marina and Te Kopahou Visitor's Centre carpark) for a motor vehicle should be extended to the whole city.

This will mean that people can only freedom camp for a maximum four-day period in any area of Wellington.

Do you support or oppose proposed changes? (Choose one option)	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐

Do you have any further comments on the proposed changes?

We also propose to include freedom camping using a tent (or other temporary structure) in this four-day restriction (currently applying to motor vehicles).
